

Wingspan Laramie County Community College

Facebook YouTube Twitter Instagram

HOME | NEWS | ARTS AND ENTERTAINMENT | SPORTS | OPINION | EVENTS | ARCHIVES | STAFF

Cantori performing at Carnegie Hall

The Cantori Choir at Laramie County Community College was invited by Choirs of America last April to perform on April 13 and 14 at Carnegie Hall in New York.

Read more

search

To search, type and hit enter

Broadcast schedule

Board of Trustees meeting, May 9.
Board of Trustees meeting, June 20.
Board of Trustees meeting, July 11.

Calendar

Faculty Recital

April 8 @ 3:00 pm - 5:00 pm

Cantorei Concert: On the Way to Carnegie Hall

April 9 @ 7:00 pm - 9:00 pm

Summer and Fall registration

April 10

View All Events

More Wingspan, in your inbox

Sign up for the Wingspan News Digest and stay in the know with what's happening on campus.

Your Name

Your Email (required)

Wyoming's ability to adapt to the future discussed by board members

The Laramie County Community College Board of Trustees meeting on March 21 covered everything from future technologies to enrollment strategies.

There were, however, a few important conversations over future technologies, legislation concerning Wyoming Community Colleges, WyoTech's future, Guided Pathways and strategies to increase enrollment.

Read more

Within Wingspan's April issue, the staff has created a special section dedicated to the questions that keep us up at night. The stories focus on societal issues that the United States is currently facing.

Gun-control is far from a clear answer

April 4, 2018 // 0 Comments

Violent crime is not new, but the slaying of dozens of children by their own schoolmates is a relatively new phenomenon that began in 1999 with the Columbine High School [...]

Are video games to blame?

0 Comments

Protesting: simpler then, complex now

0 Comments

Behavioral issues may be the thing to look for when there's a mass shooting

0 Comments

The needs, wants of a person can prove deadly

0 Comments

The political divide runs deep with no bridging in sight

0 Comments

Second amendment supporter has a change of mind

0 Comments

A life for a gun: now is the time for laws

0 Comments

How law enforcement train, respond to shootings

0 Comments

Looking into Wyoming's political divide

0 Comments

Immigrant status remains uncertain

0 Comments

News

How law enforcement

Sports

Sharp shooter earns spot on

Arts

Artist Sharan Elran Exhibit

April 4, 2018

Opinion

A life for a gun: now is the time

train, respond to shootings

April 4, 2018

Laramie County law enforcement conducts training in active shooting scenarios and utilizes school facilities to authenticize situations. According to Lieutenant Kevin [...]

Young children roaming the halls, learning on the college campus

Immigrant status remains uncertain

Wyoming's ability to adapt to the future discussed by board members

Music students write school fight song

Region IX first team

April 5, 2018

Laramie County Community College men's basketball standout Landon Taliaferro has been recognized for his on-court performance in the 2017-18 season with a selection to the [...]

Bump! Set! Spike! Go LCCC!

Soccer players continue careers outside of Laramie County Community College

Four sophomores depart after this year

Men's basketball loses opening playoff game against Lamar Community College

Artist Sharan Elran, who is originally from Israel, moved to Brooklyn, New York in 2008. "I was always curious about this city," Elran said. "I fell in love with [...]"

Works by artist Sharan Elran displayed in LCCC art gallery in March

Music students write school fight song

Theatre program takes home two regional honors

Cantori choir gets the chance of a lifetime

for laws

April 5, 2018

The largest protest in American history took place on Saturday, March 24, dethroning the protests against the Vietnam War in the 60's. March for Our Lives brought in [...]

Second amendment supporter has a change of mind

Are video games to blame?

Gun-control is far from a clear answer

Protesting: simpler then, complex now

About Contact Past staff members